RESOURCES FOR ONLINE STUDY:

Stirling Online Learning Survey

You will soon receive a survey asking about your experience of the transition to online study with Stirling in semester 1. This is optional and anonymous; your feedback is important in helping us understand and respond to student experiences, and to improve online delivery.

PUBLICATION NEWS

Writing, research and publishing are a significant part of the academic journey, allowing us to participate in social discourse on important issues, and to contribute with unique research.

Article:

Heroes never escape unscathed: Bringing toxic behaviour to light, by Sarah Bacaller. Published in Eternity News (click here).

Congratulations to Stephen Curkpatrick, who has already had two books published through STJJKI this year:

Hegelian Fragments and Reflections LMT INC.

Publishing with STJJKI (Churches of Christ Theological College in Indonesia) has the added advantage of supporting the work and publication profile of STJJKI, with whom Stirling has an ongoing relationship, and where Stephen has taught annual intensives for the last decade.

UPCOMING EVENTS

More intensives coming up in July & August, including

- Children's and Families Ministries (Beth Barnett)
- Dietrich Bonhoeffer (Mick Duncan)
- Pastoral Responses to Mental Health Issues (Ros Cairns)
- Theological and Practical Perspectives on Christian Leadership (Graham Hill)
